

DASpedia's Wireless Technology Learning Center (WTLC)

DASpedia's Wireless Technology Learning Center (WTLC) offers a wide range of technical training courses, providing enrollees with up-to-date technical skills and knowledge. We are conveniently located in, Orange County, CA, the largest wireless technology hub, at 2400 Barranca Parkway, Irvine, CA.

Continuing education is vital to staying on top of the latest technological developments in telecommunications and electronics and maintaining the skills and knowledge necessary to thrive in changing marketplaces and industries.

DASpedia invites leading wireless technology companies to WTLC to conduct in-person & instructor led certification courses open to all professionals with various skill levels from intermediate to advanced. Many of our courses are approved by nationally recognized organizations such as BICSI and ETA® International. All participants receive certificates issued by DASpedia upon completion of their chosen courses.

Let's Learn, Share, and Prosper!

Who attends DAspedia's training courses?

Organizational Types

Mobile Network Operators
Virtual Mobile Network Operators
Electrical Contractors
System Integrators & OEMs
Urban Planning Firms
Design/Architecture Companies
Construction Companies
Technology Solutions Providers
Rural Network Operators and many more...

Job Functions

Project Managers
Technicians
Installers
Network & Design Engineers
IT & Fiber Optic Professionals
Architects/Facility Managers
Business Development/Sales Professionals
Planners & Developers
Public Safety Professionals and many more...

DAspedia makes hosting product training and certification courses at our Wireless Technology Learning Center (WTLC) easy and convenient. We organize and promote your classes to our established audience in Southern California. Our facility (WTLC) provides all the necessary logistical and technical support required to conduct successful training classes.

WHERE?

DASpedia's WTCL is conveniently located in Orange County, CA. Our address is 2400 Barranca Pkwy, Irvine, CA.

WHO?

DASpedia training courses are for professionals of all backgrounds from intermediate to advanced.

CERTIFICATION

All participants will receive certificates issued by DASpedia. Some course attendees will receive continuing education credits and certificates from BICSI and ETA® International.

FOR MORE INFORMATION, VISIT
WWW.DASPEDIA.COM

OR CONTACT US AT
EMAIL: sales@daspedia.com
TEL: 310 845 6458